1944 NEWS—LOCAL MEN AND WOMEN IN WORLD WAR II MILITARY SERVICE

Part 1 of Bethel's 1944 story begins with a November 11th dedication of an Honor Roll naming 233 men and women from Bethel and Mason serving in World War II. Newry—21 serving in 1944.

The weekly Citizens printed excerpts of letters home from the men and women on military duty. Parents contributed news items to Editor Carl Brown who frequently devoted a front page column just to personal updates from those in military service wherever they were. These weekly columns were headed with an American flag.

In 1944 the Bethel Citizen was a more comprehensive news source for residents of Bethel and the surrounding towns that it is in 2011.

Scanning the Citizen of the 1940's war years, a reader would find a variety of state and national news that covered events and policy information now carried on television, the Internet and regional daily newspapers and, therefore, not seen in local weeklies.

Part 2 of 1944 summarizes the non-military events of that year.

Bethel Officer’s Plane and Crew

The Citizen, September 28, 1944

“Special Delivery’ treatment was given recently at a 12th AAF B-26 Marauder base to an anonymous request. Former members of the 42nd “Rainbow” Division requested that some bombs be dropped for them on German targets. Veterans of World War I, they were known only as “Three Star Hennessey and the boys” and a “Don”.

A top-ranking pilot-bombardier-navigator team went to work and fixed the bombs. Left to right, they are: Capt. Roy W. Tapp from 901 Isabella Avenue, Houston, Texas, Capt Russell E. Robbins from Pelahatchie, Miss., and 1st Lieut. Howard F. Thurston from Vernon St., Bethel, Maine.

The next mission they led was to soften up southern Europe for the D-Day in southern France. Captain Robbins piloted the Marauder, Lieutenant Thurston handled the navigation and Captain Tapp dropped the bombs on target.

June 8, 1944 Bethel Citizen printed news of the invasion of France.

D-DAY MONDAY

During Monday night many thousands of allied troops landed on the northern coast of France from Cherbourg to Le Havre. In many cases there was little resistance on the beachheads and early reports indicated that casualties were less than expected.

Four thousand warships and many thousands of smaller craft took part in the movement of seaborne troops, while 11,000 planes were active in surprise attack which placed large numbers of paratroops at inland points.

Later reports tell that the fortified town of Caen, five miles inland, has been captured by the Allies, and the important Caen-Bayeux highway cut.

Newry Has 21 in the Service

With a population of about 180 the town of Newry has 21 people serving the country's armed forces, which seems to be a larger proportion than some other towns. Credit for the following information about the town's service folks goes to Mrs. Frank Bennett of North Newry who has contacted the various families and gathered the facts.

Samuel T. Smith, Chief Warrant office U.S. Navy is without doubt the dean of service men from the town of Newry.

He first enlisted in the Navy in 1906 and served continuously on active duty up to and through World War I. In 1925 at own request he was placed on an inactive duty status. In 1936 Mr. Smith was retired having completed 30 years service.

The day following Pearl Harbor Mr. Smith at once offered his services to the Navy once more, but because of having but a short before suffered broken feet and ankles, he was not accepted. Determined not to be stopped by this handicap Mr. Smith again entered the veterans' hospital and after eight weeks intensive treatment, again presented himself for service This time he was accepted, and immediately ordered to duty as a Communications Officer at the Naval Torpedo Station, Newport, R.I., and will probably remain at this station for the war's duration.

Mr. Smith recently passed his 60th birthday, and this combined with his long service and the first to enter the service from Newry in our present war, surely give him first place at the head of our Newry boys and girls now entered in all branches of the service.

Earl Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lane, North Newry, joined the Armored Forces, U S

Army on September 10, 1941.

He spent two months at Fort Devens, going from there to Fort Knox, Ky. He was trained in tanks and the Commandoes while there. He signed up for combat service in February 1943, and was sent to Camp Campbell. From there he was shipped out. He landed in Africa in March 1943, going on active duty in July and he was with the Yanks in Sicily driving a tank. He was in a hospital in North Africa 32 days, the cause not known.

He went to Italy in the late fall of 1943 and was sent back to the hospital with pneumonia in April 1944. He has been there ever since, due to a weak lung. He will not go back to the front for some time. His rating is T-5

Cpl. Royal A. Reynolds of Newry has been home on a short visit. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Reynolds. He was inducted into the Army July 27, 1943. He graduated as a mechanic in the Air Force at Keesler Field, Miss., then went to Tyndall Field, Fla., to take an aerial gunner course. Since graduating there he has gone to California for more training as a gunner.

Pfc. Richard Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bennett of North Newry, was inducted in the Army in January 1943 and was assigned to an antiaircraft unit. He received his training at Camp Stewart, Ga., and Shreveport, La. In October 1943 he was shipped to the Pacific area and has served with his unit in New Caledonia, New Hebrides, the Russell Islands, and is now stationed in the Solomon Islands.

Cpl. Tech. Rodney H. Hanscom, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hanscom of Newry is serving in the Ordnance Corps in England. He enlisted in the U.S. Army Dec. 26, 1941. He received his training at Fort Devens, Mass., Camp Lee, Va., Holabird Motor Base, Baltimore, Md., Atlanta Motor Base, Atlanta, Ga., and Camp Kilmer, N.J. He went overseas in August 1942.

Pfc. Carl R. Nowlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Nowlin of Newry, is serving with the Armored Force in Italy. He was inducted Jan. 7, 1942, and received his training with the Infantry at Camp Croft, S.C. He was later transferred to the Armored Force at Fort Knox, Ky. He has been overseas 16 months, and served seven months in North Africa before being sent to Italy.

Three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powers of Newry are serving in the Army.

Tech. Sgt. Rexford A. Powers received basic training at Fort Know in the Armored Division, then transferred to Camp Campbell where he is now.

Pfc. Warren M. Powers received basic training at Miami Beach, Fla., and was in the Army Air Force, transferred to Keesler Field, Miss., graduating there as a mechanic Dec 9. From there he went to school at Ypsilanti, Mich., and is now at Salt Lake City.

Pfc. Bernard L. Powers entered the Army Transportation Corps Nov. 5, 1943 and received basic training at New Orleans. He later transferred to New Mexico for further training.

Sgt. Roy C. Tripp, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Tripp of North Newry, as far as known is in England with the Eighth Air Force ground crew. He enlisted June 1, 1942. From Fort Devens he was sent to Miami, Fla., then to Chanute Field, Ill., where he received his diploma as welder Sept 24. He then transferred to Sacramento and Alameda, Calif., and from there to Ogden, Utah, and San Bernardino, Calif. He was given his first and only furlough from there but was recalled to California, remaining about a month when he was sent to New York and overseas, arriving in England June 1, 1943. He likes England very much but he likes New England much better.

Lt. Ina L. Bean enlisted in the Army Nurses Corps Nov 5, 1942. From Fort Devens, Mass., she went to Africa arriving Jan 15, 1943, then to Italy Dec 23 of that year. Lt. Bean was married to Captain William A. Carey March 29, 1944, and at this writing is still serving somewhere in Italy.

Pvt. Pauline O. Bean enlisted in the Women's Army Corps at Portland July 12, 1944. She is at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., receiving her basic training.

Cpl. Alfred J. Richard enlisted in the service Oct. 17, 1940. He received his training at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., Fort Benning, Ga., Camp Blanding, Fla. He was shipped overseas the first of August 1942, and took part in the invasion of North Africa and Sicily. He is now in France.

Omer A. Richard Seaman 1/c entered the Navy March 1, 1943. He received his boot training in Newport, R. I., and went overseas for the invasion of Sicily. He came back on leave and went overseas in the Pacific. He was home on liberty in January after his ship was torpedoed twice. He then had five invasion stars. He is a gunner on a light cruiser and is still in the Southwest Pacific.

Pfc. Leonard W. Richard, who entered the service March 25, 1942, received his training at Salt Lake City, Utah, Texas and Camp Pine-dale, Fresno, Calif. He is a Surgical Technician in the Medical Corps. He was home in January and is expected home again on furlough in September.

Maurice A. Richard F 2/c is the fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Richard of North Newry to enter the service. He enlisted in the Navy Feb. 22 and received his boot training at Sampson, N.Y. He is on a destroyer and was shipped overseas in May 1944. He is somewhere in the invasion area.

SSgt. Willard A. Wight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Wight of Newry entered the service April 16, 1941. From Fort Devens he went to Camp Croft, S.C., where he received training as an instructor. Since then he has remained at Camp Croft, serving in that capacity.

George L. Wight Seaman 2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Wight of Newry, entered the service Nov. 11, 1943. He was sent to Camp Perry, Va., where he received training as a Seebee. After a short stay at Camp Thomas, R.I., he was shipped overseas in March and has been stationed in Corsica.

Pl. Emery L. Vail entered the service in April 1942, and was sent to Fort McClellan, Ala., for infantry training, then was transferred to Drew Field, Tampa, Fla., in the Signal Corps as a part of the Air Force. From there he was sent to Port Arthur College, Port Arthur, Texas, then back to Drew Field, where he was stationed until he was sent across.

Richard E. Blake, S C 1-c entered the Navy October, 1942. He received his basic training at Newport, R. I. Other training was received at Portsmouth, Va., and Norfolk, Va. He was assigned to a Navy transport, April 1943, and has made several trips across the Atlantic. He is now over across taking part in the invasion of France.

Geneva Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lane of North Newry, joined the U.S. Cadet Corps Feb. 8, 1944. She is training at the Maine General Hospital, Portland, Maine. She is a graduate of Gould Academy in the class of 1943.

Added: Earl Sherman Williamson, Jr., completed grade school at the Sunday River School and graduated from Gould Academy in the class of 1940. He served in the Philippines during the war as a Navy Seebee.
