

HISTORY OF THE MAYVILLE CEMETERY

From the circumstantial evidence of burials and gravestones, Riverside Cemetery once known as Mayville Cemetery, like most cemeteries in this part of Maine began as a family graveyard. The first grave, opened in 1791, belonged to the two year old Curatio Twitchell son of Eli and Rhoda Twitchell. The second burial was Rhoda Leland, 33, who died in March 29, 1792.

These graves were on Twitchell land - property owned by her brother-in-law, Eleazer Twitchell. The location of her grave is approximately midway on a probably well traveled path between her home and the home of Eleazer and Martha Twitchell next to Mill Brook at the foot of Bethel Hill – location of the plantation's first mill sites.

At the time of her death, the township where the Twitchell's lived was known as Sudbury Canada Plantation and Joseph Twitchell of Sherborn, Mass., was president of the plantation proprietors. Joseph was the father of Eleazer, who arrived in Sudbury Canada in 1779; he was followed by Eli Twitchell, who arrived here in 1782 and Captain Peter Twitchell who arrived in 1784.

In 1890 the 2d Congregational Church Society dissolved leaving no one to responsible for the cemetery. In 1905 a group of Bethel citizens formed and incorporated the Bethel Riverside Cemetery Association.
