

Ordway Hall was added to the Gould Academy campus in 1998. It's main function is a dining hall for students and faculty. There is a conference room on the second floor. Alan Ordway was a long time Chairman of the Gould Academy Trustees. Mr. Ordway owns the Winona Camps in Bridgton, Maine; he is a 1958 graduate of Gould. He hold a BA degree from Yale.

Prior to the opening of Ordway Hall, Gehring Hall housed the academy's food service and dining room.
